Introduction

Red chilli is one of the most important spices in global trade, widely used for its pungency, color, and flavor. It is available in different varieties, each suited for specific market needs. High-spice varieties like Teja are preferred for bulk and processing, while high-color varieties like Byadgi and Kashmiri are used in food products for their rich red appearance.

Best Chilli Varieties for Export

- Teja (S17) High spice (most exported)
- 334 / 341 Balanced (used by powder companies)
- DD (Deluxe) Premium quality
- Byadgi High color (low spice)
